The Radio HF Internet Newsletter is distributed monthly, free of charge, to subscribers by e-mail. The Newsletter is a collection of web sites specifically related to radio (AM/FM, shortwave, Internet radio, amateur radio, scanning and CB), communications, telecommunications, radio memorabilia and collectibles, media, journalism, science, technology, space and astronomy, weather, transportation, plus some fun things thrown in for good measure! Each edition includes links to web sites submitted by subscribers or by the editor. All sites are reviewed, verified and presented to you, with the URL, and a brief description of each site.

The Newsletter arrives in your in-box as an easy to read e-mail as well as an attached PDF version, with no fear of viruses. The subscriber list is secure, private and confidential. It will never be sold, redistributed or displayed.

Subscribers are encouraged to submit web sites for inclusion in future editions of the Newsletter. All contributors whose sites are published will receive a 2% discount on their next purchase from Radio H.F. The e-mail address for all contributions, comments, and subscription requests is hfnewsletter@yahoo.com mailto:hfnewsletter@yahoo.com

Welcome to the February 2016 issue the Radio HF Newsletter. We've just endured 2 weeks of an army of workers disrupting the house as we complete some major internal renovations. Needless to say, things have been upside down and are just getting back to some semblance of normal. As a result, this is another late delivery of the monthly newsletter. Thanks for your patience.

We're just days away from the 29th annual Winter SWL Festival taking place on February 19th and 20th in Plymouth Meeting Pennsylvania. Registration and hotel reservations can now be made on-line through the Winter SWL Festival webpage at www.swlfest.com http://www.swlfest.com/ Full details of the events and activities are available on the webpage. I hope to see many of you there. If you are attending, please drop by my Radio HF display and say "hello".

Our Monthly Special Zone for February includes web pages on the U.N. International Day of Women and Girls in Science, World Radio Day and, of course, Valentine's Day.

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to Romania. Romania is a unitary semi-presidential republic located in South-eastern Europe, bordering the Black Sea, between Bulgaria and Ukraine. It also borders Hungary, Serbia, and Moldova. With its 19.94 million inhabitants, it is the seventh most populous member state of the European Union. Its capital and largest city, Bucharest, is the sixth largest city in the EU.

Now it's on to this month's collection of websites. I invite you to submit some of your favourite websites to include in upcoming editions of the Newsletter.

The Radio JOVE project is a hands-on inquiry-based educational project that allows students, teachers and the general public to learn about radio astronomy by building their own radio telescope from an inexpensive kit and/or using remote radio telescopes through the internet. Participants also collaborate with each other through interactions and sharing of data on the network. The Radio JOVE project began in 1998. Since then, more than 1100 teams of students and interested individuals have purchased our non-profit radio telescope kits and are learning radio astronomy by building and operating a radio telescope. This self-supporting program continues to thrive and inspire new groups of students as well as individuals

I am someone who constantly refers back to older radio related magazines to get ideas about what to do next in the shack or what I might want to write about in some future article or column. In the past, this always meant a large and often musty pike of old magazines hanging around the shack. So when my favorite publications started transferring back issues to an easily searchable digital format I was on board from the get go.

The American Radio Relay League has advanced this practice over the years, moving from CD to their current DVD format. So, every year about this time, I load up my back issues of QST, NCJ and QEX and hand them out to new hams or I sneak them into a few doctor and dentist offices. (You never know?). Then I get the past year DVD and load it up with all the previous ones I have on my system. Easy Peasy!
Every word and photo published during 2015 is included!
In addition, the 2015 version includes source code for software projects and PC board patterns, Section News, Contest Soapbox and Results. You can search the full text of every article by entering titles, call signs, names--any word. You can also print what you see, or copy it into other applications.
The DVD will work with Microsoft Windows and Macintosh systems, using the industry standard Adobe® Acrobat® Reader® software. If you are someone who like to keep a complete archive of important ham radio information, this DVD is well worth the cost in time and energy saved.

Available in the US from the American Radio Relay League and in Canada from Radio HF

RADIO H.F. PUBLICITY ZONE #3

What is new in books & publications from the American Radio Relay League, the Radio Society of Great Britain, and other publishers?

ARRL's Portable Antenna Classics
Portable operating is gaining popularity in the Amateur Radio community. For amateurs who are unable to install permanent outdoor antennas at home, portable installations are often the only way they can get on the air. There are also amateurs who simply enjoy operating outdoors, in nature. For them, portable antennas are necessities.
ARRL’s Portable Antenna Classics is a collection of helpful articles gathered from more than three decades of QST, ARRL’s membership journal. Featuring easily constructed antenna systems that offer adequate performance, this book offers practical ideas and projects to get you on the air from anywhere:
HF Antennas
Single and multiband designs for all bands from 80 through 10 meters.
VHF/UHF Antennas
Antennas for 6 meters, 2 meters and even 70 centimeters.
Masts and Other Supports
Ingenious ideas for getting your portable antenna off the ground and keeping it there.

Nifty E-Z Guide to Adventures in DXing
By Jeff Cantor, K1ZN
Use your radio transceiver, logging software and Internet resources to experience the thrill communicating anywhere in the world!
Most everyone has dreamed of using distant radio communication (DXing) to talk with people in interesting and distant lands. This book helps make that a reality, describing the antenna, transceiver, amplifiers, propagation prediction tools and radio operating protocols used for successfully making DX contacts.
In addition to the equipment requirements, author Jeff Cantor, K1ZN, draws on his many years of DXing to highlight: signal propagation characteristics, spotting clusters and other resources used for finding DX stations. Once contacts have been made, the fine points of QSLing and applying for DX award programs are described. For those looking for something more, there is the challenge of working DX on the Top and Magic Bands, and the excitement of working QRP.
